Management Labor Laws

Every employer — whether unionized or not — is impacted by the National Labor Relations Act. Maintaining your non-union status and managing the nature of your relationship with existing unions is within your control.

A proactive labor strategy is better than one that is reactive. Anticipating opportunities and positioning yourself to take advantage of them is essential. Our national labor & employment group has over 50 members, a third of whom are labor lawyers.

Our Team At A Glance

- 17 labor lawyers with 250 years of combined experience.
- Handle NLRB and labor matters across the U.S.
- Negotiated labor contracts in 28 states.
- Negotiated hundreds of labor contracts.
- Handled three of the 10 longest running labor disputes in the U.S.
- Serve as national and regional labor counsel for many companies.
