

Indy Partnership About Us

Who We Are

Indy Partnership is the economic development organization for the Indianapolis Region, concentrating its efforts in the following industry clusters: Life Sciences; Motorsports; Transportation, Distribution, and Logistics; Advanced Manufacturing; Information Technology; and Clean-Tech Energy.

The Partnership's staff has decades of cumulative project experience and offers start-to-finish assistance to help businesses make an informed, strategic location decision. The Partnership provides our clients with solid quantifiable numbers on workforce, cost of doing business including incentives and taxes, available sites, transportation options and additional relevant data on a county-by-county or region-wide basis.

Our business development professionals, working with our local county partners, assist companies throughout the site selection process as they choose the ideal location for an expansion or location. Let us put our team to work for you.
